PETITIONS ISSUED FOR J.C. OFFICES

Student Election Will Be Held In Student Office January 20

Five Petitions Have Been Taken Out; More Are Expected Today

One of the closest student elections in the history of the school is predicted to take place January 20, it is predicted today, as the petitions are being issued, and the campaigns of the various candidates get under way.

Up until a late hour last night five petitions had been take out for the four elective positions of the Executive Board for the second semester. Presidential petitions have been issued by the present secretary, Ada Marie Hendricksen, for John "Sky" Dunlap, and Wayne Flinn. Both are prominent in student affairs. It is very probable that more will be taken out today.

For the office of vice-president, only petition has been issued, that of Oran Asa, and for the office of secretary, one has been issued, that for Ada Marie Hendricksen, incumbent.

Only one has been issued for the position of treasurer, that of Bruce Harding. Other candidates for all three of the minor offices are scheduled to be in the race late today.

Nominations will be made from the floor in next Tuesday's assembly, and will be accompanied by the petitions with the signatures of at least five per cent of the members of the Associated Students.

The voting which is to be by ballot will be in the Associated Student office. The polls will be open all day.

Next week's El Don will be an election special, at which time the platforms of all the candidates, the experience and other data of the candidates will be published. It is possible that the paper will have two additional pages.

Soon after the election, the new officers will meet, and name the six commissioners who make up the remainder of the Executive Board.

Beta Gamma Plans Extra Curricular Graduation Prize

New Key Will Be Chosen By J. C. Society

With John "Sky" Dunlap, Vernell Butler and Lawson Watkins appointed to formulate a plan for the Beta Gamma honorary society whereby that organization will offer a prize at graduation for outstanding service to the college, members of Beta Gamma met on Wednesday before Christmas vacation in the office of Mrs. John Tessmann, club adviser.

At the present time, graduation prizes are given for scholarship and all-around ability, commercial skill and literary proficiency. The need for an award for participation in extra-curricular activities and service to the college was realized by members of Beta Gamma and a plan will be presented in a few days by the committee. The prize will probably consist of cash.

Another important matter taken up at the meeting was the ordering of Beta Gamma keys. Three styles can be purchased so the members decided to wait until vacation to send in the order. The key will replace the former pin but will retain the club insignia, which includes a shield, ship and the Greek symbols for Beta Gamma.

Miss Maybelle Ball, president, brought up the question of a charter and the members voted to purchase one in accordance with the plan of the Executive Board in having every college organization chartered.

BULLETIN

Mr. William A. Griffith, past Dean of Art at the University of Kansas, will give a lecture on "The Schools of Art", for the Junior Art Association at the Laguna Beach Art Association Gallery, on Saturday January 10, at 4:00 P. M.

Campus Gamblers

A few of the students are making almost a daily habit of gambling on the campus of Santa Ana junior college. The rest of the "gambling group" who are causing complaint, are outsiders. While the possibly eight or ten would or could be "collegians" are rolling their dice, there are constantly a dozen or so college students giving them audience.

Consequently, a casual passerby sees a picture something like this: A couple students down on their knees "shootin' craps" with a dozen or so students standing around appearing as interested spectators. In some cases those down on their knees are not junior college students. But, those giving audience are. The chances are, half of the spectators are smoking. Well, naturally to the taxpayers (those who make possible our college) actions of this sort do not look very good.

State laws can intervene in both instances; the gambling anywhere, and the smoking on the campus. In fact, they have in several instances, and threaten to go further.

Are the students of Santa Ana junior college going to allow such a thing to continue? The honor and reputation of the college is at stake. Put yourself in the place of the passerby-taxpayer. The bottom would fall right out of your faith in the schools, wouldn't it? When the next school bond election came along, you would vote "no". You would think, "If they need more room, why not "fire" all the loafers, and make room?"

As for the smoking on the campus, that looks bad too. In the words of one of our faculty members: "If you must smoke, why not walk around the block while doing it." If anybody looks lazy and ambitionless it is the student leaning against a post or sitting on the curb smoking.

An entry in the secretary's book, dated before Christmas vacation reads like this: 'M. S. C. that after one week of rigorous publicity and warning, that the Executive Board takes upon itself the complete jurisdiction over campus discipline. If you don't know what it means read between the lines.

6-4-4 Plan Vote

Next Tuesday in the regular assembly "El Don" is going to take a straw vote of the students on the question of 6-4-4. We believe all of the students of the college know what the plan is, what the effect will be on the students of Santa Ana junior college, and all its alternates.

This is not an official vote of any kind; just merely an attempt to get the actual student feeling on the thing that may be upon S. A. J. C. another year.

It is evident that there will have to be something done about the conditions here at college, as the present equipment will not supply the growing needs of the school. The question is, will it be the 6-4-4 plan, an Orange county junior college, or a Southern Orange County junior college. Next Tuesday's vote will be merely an attempt to get the sentiment of the students on the subject; the students who will be directly affected more than anyone else.

Annual Sale Closes With Second Semester Ticket Sale; Basketball Team May Go To Phoenix, Arizona

No "Del Anos" will be sold outright, was the verdict of the Executive Board at their regular meeting last Monday night in the student office. The year-book will be issued on student tickets only, and after the second semester ticket sale is closed, the year-book purchasers will be known.

This was done for several reasons. It will enable the editors of the annual to know just how many copies, how much money will be available, how many cuts must be made, and in general let them know just where they are.

It was also decided that all the applications for charters by the clubs of the school must be in by January 19. After that date the organizations not holding charters will not be recognized by the Associated Students, and will not be until the application has been made.

It was pointed out that clubs not being recognized will receive none of the benefits of Associated Student affairs, which includes publicity in the school paper, and the "Del Ano".

The name of the daily bulletin coming out each morning and edited by John Crowley, has been changed from "Dons Daily" to "El Diario", which means in Spanish "the daily". This comes along with the changing of the weekly paper and the year-book to names of Spanish origin, parallelling our Spanish traditions.

The Executive Board also sanctioned a letter received recently by Coach Bill Foote from Phoenix junior college offering a home and home basketball arrangement, which will probably send our basketball team to Phoenix this year for a two game series, and will bring Phoenix here next year for a two game series. Phoenix will guarantee the Dons $200.

Dons Enjoy Skating Party At Los Angeles

Between 50 and 75 students of the college enjoyed an ice skating party at the Palais de Glace, in Los Angeles last night. The party was under the supervision of the junior college Press club, with John "Sky" Dunlap, president of the club in charge.

The Santa Ana delegation was part of a collegiate night, which also included U. S. C., U. C. L. A., Los Angeles junior college, and Pasadena junior college. The Dons gathered at the Los Angeles rink at 7:30 p. m., and enjoyed several hours of exercise.

After the party, the collegians adjourned to a nearby restaurant to get warmed up from the stay on the ice. At a late hour, the excursion broke up. Edgar M. Flowers, faculty adviser of the Press club, and Sheldon Hayden, forensic coach, accomied the skaters.

This was the first ice skating party sponsored by the Press club. Many social events have been held during the year, but none with the entire Associated Students invited.

Quartet Prepares For Chicago Trip

Members of the junior college quartet today are completing plans for their trip to Chicago, the first part of February, under the sponsorship of the Santa Fe railroad. The trip will probably extend into several weeks.

The quartet, and soloists, who are Simeon Toelle, Howard Rose, Marquise Hare, James Lukens, Margaret Rust, and Nada Smith will probably make several appearances before they leave.

The party, in charge of Miss Myrtle Martin, head of the music department, will entertain on programs put on by the railroad company, an annual affair, to their employees. Several stops will be made along the way.

John Crowley, editor of S. A. J. C. El Diario, returned a few days ago from Oil City Pennsylvania, where he spent the Christmas holidays with his parents.

GRID BANQUET TOMORROW NIGHT; SEVERAL U. S. C. TROJANS TO BE PRESENT

Jr. Lions Give Christmas Food

Club Will Stay At Meador Home At Snow Party

Junior Lions club members will leave here Friday evening for Forest Home where they will stay over night and join members of the Associated students in th annual snow party activities the following day.

Through the courtesy of Ed Meador, fellow Junior Lion, other members of the organization have been invited to stay at his cabin during the evening. Final arrangements for the outing and plans for entertainment were made at the meeting Monday night.

A report of the food committee in charge of aid to the needy during the Christmas period, revealed that one family was supplied with enough food to sustain them for two weeks.

At the last meeting of the Junior Lions board of directors it was decided that the site of the next council meeting will be at Santat Ana. The delegates from all the southern California dens will be present. The date will be either January 16 or January 23, at one of the down town cafes. The program will be in charge of the local den, headed by Ray Glesner.

Final initiation of the four pledges will be at the next regular meeting of the den, and also the election of officers. It will probably be January 19.

J. C. Snow Party Scheduled For Forest Home Sat.

Lodge Has Been Rented For Students

With all arrangements complete for the annual Snow Party, Maybelle Ball, social commissioner and other Associated Student executives were today predicting the largest festivity of its kind ever held by the association.

The Big Falls lodge, located just above the main section of the resort, has been secured as the location for activities. A huge fire will be kept alive at the lodge during the day and excellent sledding is reported a short distance above the site.

As the falls are not far from the lodge it was pointed out that many will probably want to take this hike. Students have been urged to equip themselves for the occasion with warm clothes as well as lunch. Coffee will be served at the lodge during the day.

Aiding in the transportation is the Gauchos club, which has volunteered to make arrangements for transporting Dons to and from the scene of activities.

Music for dancing at the lodge will be furnished by a large phonograph secured for the occasion.

As a caravan will be formed for the journey all will meet at the college at 7 a. m. Saturday morning.

Those of the faculty who will attend are Mr. and Mrs. Sundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Scott, and T. H. Glenn.

Williams Receives Ancient Manuscript

A leaf from an old Latin bible printed in 1479 at Strassburg, Germany by Adolph Rusch, was one of the Xmas gifts, received by Thomas E. Williams, printing director of the junior college print shop. It was from Arthur M. Ellis, president of the State Historical Society, who is a close friend of Williams.

The page is that of the thirty-third chapter of Ezechiel. It is famous for its masterpiece of typography. It has the two colors of red and blue, put in by hand, and the color, applied 452 years ago are still in excellent condition.

S. A. J. C. Will Have "Battle Song"; Students Write Words

With $5.00 as the prize, the Executive Board has launched a drive among the students for words for a "Battle Song" to be written by some student, which can be put to music by S.J. Mustol, band and orchestra leader of the Santa Ana city schools. The contest started last Monday and will end a week from Friday, January 16. Mustol has written several school songs, including that of Fresno State, where he was an instructor before coming here.

All contributions will be judged by the Executive Board, with the help of T.H.Glenn of the faculty. Three will be selected and turned over to Mustol, who will judge upon their adaptability to music which he may choose to compose. The author of the poem set to music will receive the award. The Board reserves the right to reject all the poems if they are found to be unsatisfoctory.

"We suggest," stated Wayne Flinn, head of the song committee, "that the contestent try to bring out our Spanish theme in the poem and say Santa Ana College instead of the customary junior or jaysee. The contestent should also keep in mind that the song will be more desirable if it is easy to memorize and the repitition in rhyme will faciliate writing of the music."

All contributions must be given to Flinn or some member of the Executive Board before January 16.

Don "Y" Attends Asilomar Meeting

Twenty-three members of the junior college Y. M. C. A. returned last Saturday night from a seven day stay at the 17th annual Y. M. C. A. conference for the Pacific Southwest at Asilomar, California, near Monterey. The delegation from Santa Ana was the second largest in the camp, and although schools of much greater size were represented, the jaysee group was only exceeded by the twnty-seven members from the University of Southern California.

Leonard Dahlquist, chairman of the Pacific Southwest Student Field council of Y. M. C. A.'s was directly in charge of all activities and fellowships in the conference. Kirby Page, editor of "The World Tomorrow", and author of numerous pamphlets, articles, and books on religious education was the main speaker of the week. Mr. Page returned only five months ago from a year's travel and study around the world, and has first hand information on what is happening in India, Europe and China today.

Dr. Alan A. Hunter, pastor of Hollywood Congregational church in Hollywood, and who spoke before an assembly here a short time ago was another one of the featured speakers. Dr. Hunter is well known throughout California as a college speaker, counseller and conference leader.

Among the other personalities who helped to lead the conference were "Dad" Elliot, a member of the National Staff of Student division, Y. M. C. A.; Dr. James C. ReVoss, San Jose State College; Dean McKee Fisk, of Santa Ana jaysee, Homer A. Gould, Y. M. C. A. secretary from Los Angeles; Dr. Gilbert V. Hamilton, of Santa Barbara and New York; Dr. Edwin A. Lee, from Berkeley; Professor S. C. Lee, of the University of Hawaii, and numerous other well known educators and conference workers.

The purpose of the Asilomar conference, as outlined by literature and those who were present, is to give a closer religious fellowship between

Football Captain Will Be Elected

Bachelors And Spinsters Sponsoring Affair

Honoring the 1930 Santa Ana junior college football team, students, teachers and sport fans of Santa Ana will gather Thursday night for the annual football banquet, which is being sponsored again by the Brotherhood of Bachelors and the Sisterhood of Spinsters.

The program will be different from any of previous years in that no principal speaker will be on the program and the few talks scheduled all will be short. It was at first planned to get a prominent coach from some Pacific Coast Conference but a league rule prohibits any coach talking before athletes so the plan was dropped.

To take the place of the speaker, four stars of the powerful University of Southern California football team will be guests at the affair and will be introduced. Orville Mohler, one of the best ball packers in the nation, Marshall Duffield, Troy quarterback, Jim Musick, plunging fullback, formerly of Santa Ana and Ralph "Dutch" Wilcox, star end, will be the grid celebrities.

Sheldon, Hayden, faculty adviser of the Bachelors and instructor of public speaking, will be the toastmaster for the evening and a humorous evening is in store for those who attend. Hayden is noted for his humor and is working out a clever program. Other features on the program will feature double piano numbers by Everett Idlor, and Bill Motley and trumpet duets by Don Abbott, Bill Motley and Warren Schutz with Idlor at the piano. Motley attended Santa Ana last year and is now a student at U. S. C. and established a wide reputation as a musician, especially on the piano and trumpet.

The banquet will start at 6:30 p. m. and will be held in the dining hall of the First Christian church at Sixth and Birch streets. The ticket sale is in charge of the Bachelors and Spinsters and it was pointed out that dates are not necessary as a large number of men and women will attend without escorts.

Captain Al Kluthe, retiring football skipper, will give a short talk and the new leader will also be elected at the banquet and will say a few words. Football monograms will also be given out to members of the team by Coach Bill Cook.

"O. K. Drag" Plans Complete Tonight

Club Made Up Of Students Not Living at Home

Plans for the second annual "O. K. Drag" are to be completed tonight at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the O. K. club when they meet at the home of their adviser, H. A. Scott, at 613 South Ross. Last year under the presidency of Abbott Mason, the club started the affair, which is to be continued this year by the present president, Ray Glesner.

No definite plans have been completed up to a late hour last night, but they are to be completed tonight. The date of the dance, which is to be an informal affair will probably be at Long Beach. The date

An orchestra has not been secured yet. The price of admission will be 25 cents per person for the Associated Student ticket holders, and 50 cents per person for non-ticket holders.

They are also going to hold the election for the Don and Dona, who will reign at the Fiesta, which will be held probably in May. They have all signified their intention to sponsor the beard growing contest, which for the last two years has been proclaimed as a big success.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

What Will We Get?

Well, with the 6-4-4 plan looming up, "back door" accusations, 4-year universities scrapping at us, and what not, we just wonder what we of the junior college will get out of it. Will we find ourselves barred from the four-year colleges as one "fanatic" advocates? Will we be put back with the high school, as the 6-4-4 plan will do if established here? Will our athletes be turned away from the universities? Or will we find them telling us that we can establish our curriculum on a four-year basis? Your guess is as good as anyone's including that of the governor.

The J. C. "Back Door"

One of our Los Angeles papers stated last Sunday, while commenting on the serious road athletics seem to be taking today, enumerated several ways of which they are making over-emphasis possible. One of its list of eight read like this: "Junior college of development of otherwise ineligible athletes who later enter universities through the back door".

He then enumerated ways to correct the "evils", and for the "back door" evil, it states thusly: "Either abolish junior college transfers or count junior college competition as varsity. Treat a transfer as some conferences now do—lose a year of competition through transfer."

Four-Year Junior Colleges

Several junior colleges of the state, headed by Sacramento, are to make thir second try at the meeting of the State Legislature this year to be permitted to establish their college on a four-year basis.

Much opposition to this plan is being vigorously generated at Berkeley, the seat of the state university. Statements such as this are coming from Berkeley: "Junior colleges are designed primarily for individuals not intending to enter the professions and they should be limited to the first two years beyond the high school, up to the division between general and special education, and no further."

"Their real purpose is not to relieve the universities of the burden of numbers, not to save the young collegian the cost of board and lodging away from home, not to keep the growing youth for two years more under his mother's guidance.

"These things may be worthwhile, but they are merely by-products. The real value of the junior college rests in its attempt to meet the needs of those students whose talents and interests do not lie along the line of a university career, but who are interested in further education." We do not deny to the junior college their "subsidiary function" of training students who are unable to go directly to college from high school."

With more than the usual interest Santa Ana might watch this fight which will be settled this year. If Sacramento wins, there's to telling what might appear in Orange county.

Not Enough Room

In commenting about the situation of smoking and gambling on the campus, one of the members of the Executive Board suggested it may be because the student has nothing else to do with his time, or no other place to go.

In the bedrock cause, because we have no really adequate place to study while not in class? Is it because our library will only hold a very limited number? If so, it is a very strong argument in favor of some sort of change, such as the suggested Orange county or Southern arrangement junior college.

If so, it is just one more item to be added to the already long list of reasons why we need a new campus; one that supports only the junior college.

OVER THE EDITOR'S DESK

BY ORAN ASA

BEFORE FORGETTING the football season, let us bring your attention to the surprising fact that in the history of the two schools, Long Beach jaysee, and Santa Ana J. C., Long Beach has never been able to penetrate the "Don" line for one single point. In 1928, the first of the Don-Viking grid games, Santa Ana won 7-0. In 1929 the Dons scored a 22-0 win, and this last season just closed, the Vikings of Long Beach fell 19-0. May that string of goose-eggs continue until the on into eternity. Santa Ana 48, Long Beach 0.

* * *

ANOTHER FACT WE should be proud of is that the Pasadena Bulldog has not beaten the Santa Ana Dons on the football field since the fall of 1927. In that year the Pasadenans turned the trick by the score of 12 to 8. 1928 found the Dons and Bulldogs battling to a 12-12 tie. Santa Ana's 1929 championship team outfought the Pasadena team 6-0, and this last season the Dons again won 7-0.

* * *

NOW, AFTER OUR banquet tomorrow night, let's forget about the football season, and turn our attention to the fast stepping Don basketball team. They have made an excellent showing in the practice games, and with full student support, they may surprise some of the favorites. They are now what might be called "dark horses".

* * *

WE ARE ANXIOUS that every student in school express his opinion on the 6-4-4 plan in assembly next Tuesday. If we have the sentiment of but a few, it will not mean much.

* * *

"Of all sad words of tongue and pen, the saddest are, 'It might have been' ". Fit it into your own personal case.

Four candidates are up for election to the office of Associated Student president. One of them is to take over the position of "head man" of our student government. Which one will it be?

In choosing your candidate, remember that this position is NOT an honorary position altogether. To be true, it is an honor to be chosen by the students to lead the government of the school, but the job only begins at that point.

When you choose your man, base it on three things—1—ability. 2—experience, and 3—character. Each of those three take in a powerful lot of territory.

THIS IS THE first edition of "El Don" (not including our Christmas magazine). It makes the third name change of the college newspaper in six years. When it started out in 1925 it was christened "Junior College News". In 1928 the name was changed to "The Don", and now it takes on the name "El Don", to fill out the rapidly forming Spanish motif of Santa Ana junior college. Long live "El Don"!

* * *

TO POETS, song writers, "would be's", and the students in general:

At last we are to have a "battle song". The Executive Board is asking everyone to compose the words to a song, and the best three will be chosen and given to Mr. Mustol, director of the orchestra, who will compose the music.

The composer whose words are put to music will be given $5.00 by the board.

Won't it be great, when little Ambrose (your grown son) returns home the first day of "Frosh Week" with a copy of the Santa Ana J. C. battle song, and you can proudly say: "Yes, my son, I wrote the words to that song when I was a student at junior college way back in 1931."

* * *

WE, OF THE "El Don" staff wish to take this time to thank Abbott Mason for the drawing of the "El Don" name plate appearing for the first time at the top of our front page. We of the staff are very proud of it—may "El Don" never go out of existance.

* * *

OUR NEXT ISSUE, that of Wednesday, January 14, will be an election special. It is possible that an insert of two additional pages will be made. The campaign platforms of all the candidates for the coming student election will be published.

It should also be reminded that following the policy of former editors, all political advertising will be accepted, on the 15 cent an inch basis. This is cutting our regular advertising rates in half.

WHO DID WHAT

The following being collected data on how various students spent the holidays. From the looks of most everyone it appears that the school board ought to give a couple of weeks more vacation to rest up for school. Well, here's how some of the local collegiates answered the reporter's question, "What did you do?"

Orv Schuchardt: "Loafed; went to the city, rested."

"Happy" Parsons: "Played with my baby sister."

"Tiny" Hendricks: "Nuthin'."

Grace Skinner: "Oh, I started going steady."

Ada Marie (with her characteristic giggle): "What didn't I do."

Truck Lindsey worked. He was the "Fore-men" with Clark.

Ted Roth: "Ah, I just horsed around. I was going to study but—."

"Sammie" Samuelson: 'Anybody I could". How's that for a snappy comeback?

Al Kluthe labored for Kress Co. Al also is reported to have spent a considerable amount of time in San Juan Capistrano.

Tommy Cone reported that he spent a respectable time on New Year's at Agua Caliente.

George Griffith went to San Francisco.

"Sky" Dunlap spent one week hiking around Yosemite and the next week recuperating.

Aggie Riley McKinstry did so much and had such a wonderful time that it took her a week to tell it all. She went ice skating for one thing.

Ruth Gardner went up to Santa Barbara to visit the B. F.

Nelle Grafton spent some time in bed with a bad case of tonsilitis but was able to see the new year in right. z

Stan Johnston went to Palm Springs and chased billy goats up Andres Canyon.

Ray Glesner: "I slept a lot before New Year's Eve so I could stay out late, and then spent the rest of the vacation sleeping to make up what I lost."

Clarence "What a Man" Hapes: "I refuse to state!"

Frank Van Meter: "This and that."

Melvin Beatty: "Same as Wilma."

Wilma Patterson: "Same as Melvin."

John Crowley went back east to his home town.

Dean Fisk went to Asilomar.

Kiyoshi Higashi also went up to Yosemite.

Paul Wright was another one that went to Yosemite.

Gladys and Grace Lloyd: "We sure had one swell time."

Martha Yost went to Long Beach to a party.

I HEREBY RESOLVE

Resolutions that we are all making and that we shall all have the fun of breaking:

1—That I shall give more time to my studies and less to my dates.

2—That I shall pay all my past collected library fines.

3—That I shall get my term papers in on time.

4—That I shall pay close attention to all class lectures.

5—That I shall give up using all Bill's old themes and start writing my own.

7—That I shall start going regularly to gym classes.

8—That I shall really read my collateral reading every week.

9—That I shall stop being late to my classes.

10—That I shall stop depending upon the girl in front of me in my botany class for a decent grade in the tests.

STUDENT COMMENT

There has been a good deal of agitation lately about smoking on the campus and gambling around and near the school. The matter of smoking and gambling is entirely personal. Whether a fellow engages in either is his own business, but when these activities are carried on so that they interfere or reflect in any way upon the student body or upon other students individually they should be checked.

Several times officers have been called down by irate neighbors of our school who complain of students engaging in a game of "shooting craps". This is certainly a reflection upon the reputation of Santa Ana junior college students—police interference with student activities on the campus. That's rotten!

Smoking is also a personal matter, but for gosh sakes, let's not stand on the corner and smudge the trees and flowers!

We could at least be going somewhere when smoking—pretend it at least. Here is the whole thing in a nut shell. Not that I give a—personally, but it might look like—to some one else.—Warren Schutz.

Since this question has arisen, lets all get behind our students and boycott such underhand methods as gambling of all forms, and smoking about school. If you must participate in such activities please refrain from doing so near or about our campus.

There is no reason or excuse for gambling at the Santa Ana junior college. Leaving out the question of right and wrong, gambling on the campus distinctly gives the college a bad reputation. Passer-by and visitors cannot help but notice the "crap games" and the good points of the school are offset and forgbtten by the sight of "big business men" gambling with pennies on the street corner. Such childish traits are usually associated with high school or non-college people and hardly to Dons and Donas supposedly trying to get an education.

None gives a snap if you gamblers lose a nickel or dime matching pennies because it's your own business what happens to your money but it does seem that you should have enough self respect and sense of honor not to drag the junior college into dishonor. Aren't there a thousand and one places to gamble off the campus? Isn't it more comfortable to sit at a table and roll dice than kneel in the dirt or gutter? Does it seem funny to be hailed into the police court for gambling? Can't your spare change be used to better advantage than to lose it gambling or pay a fine to a police judge? Would it hurt your grades any to study a little bit for the final examination not so far off? Are you majoring in crap shooting or something legitimately offered by the college? How would you like to have compulsory study halls to keep you out of the gutter and from gambling?

These are just a few trifling questions. You gamblers will come to a reckoning in the very near future. CRIME NEVER PAYS.

NEW YEAR TRADITIONS

Merrymaking on New Year's Day is of very ancient date in England. The head of the house assembled his family around a bowl of spiced ale, comically called "lamb's wool", from which he drank to their health, then passed it to the rest that they might drink to. They said over their goblets, "Wass - hael", "To your health". Hence this came to be recognized as Wassail bowl.

It was customary among the Saxon tenants to give capons to their landlord. Later an orange or lemon stuck with cloves was a common gift.

Gloves, more expensive than now, were considered as a costly present. Glove money was gift money to purchase gloves. When steel pins were invented in 1543, they were very acceptable to the ladies. Money given to purchase them was called pin money.

In Queen Elizabeth's day, her great officers of state and other officials and friends either gave her money or costly articles of ornament for herself or her apartments, such as caskets studded with precious stones, necklaces, bracelets, gown, etc.

At Coventry it was customary to eat what are called God-cakes, a delicacy of a triangular shape of bout one-half inch thick and filled with a kind of mince meat.

After the restoration of the Bourbons, it became fashionable to send bon bons as a gift. In 1822 one thousand tons of them were sold in the two days preceding the festival.

The Romans of more ancient date were accqustomed to exchange greetings and made presents. In Persia the year is supposed to begin on March 21 and the day is one of universal rejoicing. In Japan the day is given over to much festivity and innocent mirth. Among the Chinese the day is the greatest feastival of the year, and in France, French Canadian and Scotland it is observed more than Christmas.

Alpha Rho Tau Meets At Beach

Members of the Alpha Rou Tau motered to Laguna shortly before vacation to attend their meeting which took the form of a visit to the art gallery followed by a full course dinner at the home of Robert Marshall.

One hour was spent at the art gallery discusing and criticising the various pictures on display. The members then went to the home of their host and enjoyed an informal discussion around ano open fireplace preceeding the dinner.

The dinner, served by the pledges and prepared by Mrs. Marshall consisted of fruit cocktail, salad, beef and kidney pudding, an English dish, peas coffee and rolls, and persimmon pudding.

Entertainment was provided by the two pledges to the organization, Florine Pollock and June Healey. The group consisted of: Anna M. Giles, advisor, Geraldine Cole, president, Mina Everett, Beatrice Holly, Elizabeth Straw, Virginia Pope, Harley Melzian, and Robert Marshall.

Plans are going forward for the next meeting which in all probability will be held at the Huntington library in Pasadena.

Carl Knoph Gives Assembly Lecture

The students of the college were privileged to hear Dr. Carl Knoph speak yesterday before the assembly. The program was in charge of Bob Williams. The program opened with a piano solo by Miss Velma Bishop, who played the "Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody". This assembly was the second "Y" assembly to be given this semester.

Dr. Carl Knoph is a well known authority on the subject of archaeology and is a professor of ancient history at the University of Southern California. Dr. Knoph is also an authority on religion and is a popular Y. M. C. A. worker.

In his speech the speaker discussed the requirements of a "Regular Fellow", bringing out the fact that such a person must be developed equally in muscle, brain, and spirituality. The speaker further stated that man was incurably religious whether he knew it or not, mainly because every person at one time or another thinks of the universe and what it means.

the young men of today, and it was toward this end that the entire plans of the conclave were laid.

A great honor was conferred on the "Y" when Robert Brown was elected to the executive board of the Student Field Council. This is remarkable in the fact that Brown is the only J. C. student on the board.

Short side trips, recreational activities and games were interspersed with study sessions of the conference to give a varied program while in camp.

Spinsters Initiate Eight New Members

Completion of plans for the football banquet was the business taken up by the Spinsters at the regular meeting held Monday night. The banquet is to be held Thursday night and is being sponsored by the Spinsters and Bachelors. The Sisterhood is making all plans for decorating the hall as well as assisting with the ticket sale.

New members were welcomed by Supreme Spinster, Betty Maloney, at their first regular meeting. At an initiation held during the holidays at the Balboa Island home of Grace Marcher eight pledges were given final rites of the organization. Margaret Gardner, unable to be present, will be initiated at the next regular session.

Plans for the future discussed included the club will undertake during the coming semester. Prominent is the consideration of new members. It was decided to have a few girls out to the next meeting.

Final Initiation Rights Are Given

In final initiation ceremonies held at the charming home of the acting president, Ruth Fitz, on West Chapman road, Garden Grove, the eight pledges to Las Meninas were recived formally into membership on Monday exening, December 15. The pledges received a final hazing, in which each had to don old clothes, take a number, and answer intelligent and foolish questions. If the answers were not correct, the victim was punished by Las Meninas paddles in the hands of the pledges themselves. Miss Agnes McKinstry gave an account of her most thrilling date, after which the Misses Lorna Allen and Esther Romoff read interesting diaries, kept during the pledge season.

Each pledge was then taken from the room, blindfolded, and brought in to be branded with the Las Meninas seal of membership. Miss Helen Lee, ex-president, administered the oath of membership.

The members then gathered around a blazing fire in a large fireplace, and the hostess served delicious refreshments with Christmas candies and nuts. During a business meeting, it was decided to assist the Gauchos in providing food for the needy at Christmas, also to provide for the needs of a poor family. It was decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Neva McDonald at Irvine.

Those attending were the hostess, Ruth Fitz, the adviser, Miss Genevieve Humiston, and old members, the Misses Esther Guyton, Helen Lee, Jean Anderson, Catherine Harwood, Catherine Walbridge, Miriam Samuelson, and the new members, the Misses Agnes McKinstry, Ruth Gardner, Esther Romoff, Ruth Collins, Lorna Allen, Florence Stanley, Neva McDonald, and Marian Taylor.

Santa Claus was impersonated by the members of the Las Meninas. Several poor families were taken under their wing, and through the efforts of the club, enjoyed a wonderful Christmas.

Miss Humiston, the club adviser, located the destitute families, and asked each member to bring to her home whatever she could. The articles were distributed the day before Christmas. Groceries, clothes and toys were provided. Presents also were given, each one wrapped and addressed to a certain member of the family. Even the baby was remembered, and as the family was happy, so were the girls to think that they were the means of making happiness.

Gauchos Have Charge Of Snow Party Cars

Coming together for the first time this year, La Compania de Los Gauchos held a combination social and business meeting at the home of Frank Mansur last Monday night.

The club's vice-president, Cardwell Oglesby, took charge of the meeting in the absence of Lawson Watkins, president.

Final plans for arranging the transportation of the annual junior college Snow party were formulated, it being decided at the last meeting that the that the Gauchos would have charge of that phase of the outing.

Associated membership was bestowed upon one of the former members who is leaving school for the semester, in order to avail him of the priviledge of returning to full membership with his return to school.

Refreshments were served, after which a social time was held. Rex "Hodges" Woodward gave several piano solo numbers, after which Lecil Slabback entertained on his piano accordian.

Among those present were Cardwell Oglesby, Rex "Hodges" Woodward, Howard Barnes, Robert Brown, Frank Mansur, Lecil Slaback, James Newman, Donald Dickson, Roy Arms, Eldon Bragg, Fredrick Davis, Tom Donahue, and the faculty adviser, H. A.Scott.

Dunlap Calls Six-Footers Meet Wed.

With several projects to carry out, the Longfellows club will hold a meeting next Wednesday night in the print shop, it was learned from John "Sky" Dunlap, president and organizer of the unique men's organization.

The last work of the club was the presentation of the second annual fashion show recently in assembly, when 25 of the six footers donned women's dresses and displayed the latest styles. The members were wearing styles today, also, but only the club derby hats, Wednesday being the official Darby Day of the club.

The Longfellows have a standing challenge with the faculty for a golf tournament and full details will be decided at the meeting next week. The club defeated the pedagogues in basketball and the instructors then issued a challenge in golf, which has been put off until the present time because the instructors were engaged in football coaching.

Breakfast Club Stages Reunion

Sunday morning, December 21, found a reunion of old and new Breakfast club members at Miss Linda Paul's home, 2015 North Main street, for the purpose of making new members acquainted with those who attended last year, and at the same time to have some new ideas introduced.

"What is true Christmas Spirit" was the topic of discussion at this meeting. Mr. Fisk pointed out that to have true Christmas spirit, one must retain that same feeling for his fellow men the year around, that is theidea of service to the other fellow.

Bachelors Complete Plans For Football Banquet During Meet

Discussing plans for the annual footbal lbanquet Thursday night and distributing tickets for the members to sell, the Brotherhood of Bachelors met Monday night at the home of Jac Crawford at 938 North Grand Avenue in Santa Ana.

All plans for the banquet, which is being sponsored by the Brotherhood of Bachelors and Sisterhood of Spinters, were gone over by the members. It was decided that only members of the football team who earned letters or were still on the team at the end of the season should be given free tickets because the subsidy from the college Executive Board was not large enough to pay for every football candidate who came out for the team. The free tickets will be distributed to the gridders before the banquet.

Preliminary plans were also made for the annual Bachelors Ball, one of the biggest functions of the year. It will be held during the middle of February and will again be staged at the Lake Norconian club near Riverside. The Bachelors will hold their semi-annual banquet at the exclusive resort before the dance, it was also decided.

Committees appointed were George Griffith, posters; John "Sky" Dunlap, and Ervin Watkins, favors and programs; Everett Idlor and Wayne Flinn, orchestra and Tommy Cone, advertising. As usual the Bachelors will have a week of special activities before the Ball, which will include a Bachelor assembly and a special edition of El Don.

The meeting Monday night was opened with a mock trial for several members on various offenses. Sheldon Hayden, faculty adviser, acted as judge for the first culprit, Al Kluthe, but stepped down from the bench to act as prosecuting attorney when Bill Crawford was hailed into court. John "Sky" Dunlap and Warren Schutz acted as attorneys, a jury was impanelled for each prisoner and all the formalities of a court were followed, with the exception of the sentences, which consisted of swats.

DON CAGEMEN BEAT LOYOLA BUT LOSE TO U. C. QUINTET

After increasing their list of undefeated contests Friday night by downing the Loyola college freshmen in Andrews gym, 25 to 21, Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana junior college Dons took the floor Monday evening here against a 145-pound team from the University of California and were ceremoniously trounced, 34 to 19.

Unable to get "going", Santa Ana and Loyola rocked along in the first half, first one team making a slight showing and then the other, with Loyola holding a 10 to 9 lead at the end of the second quarter. Hal Dunham, Emmett Seacord, Elwood Lindley, Captain Orville Schuchardt and Lorry Walbridge were the Santa Ana scorers of the first half, and with the third quarter in full swing, Schuchardt, Dunham and Seacord kept up the good work by increasing the count to a 19 to 14 lead for the Dons. Loyola stepped into the limelight immediately following and captured the lead, 20 to 19. Unleashing a beautiful backhand shot, Beatty turned the tables on Loyola and Lindley came through for two goals to cinch the evening's contest. Loyola scored a foul shot to make the final count 25 to 21.

A brilliant 17-point rally in the second half could not offset Santa Ana's poor first-half showing Monday night, and as a result, the Foote cagers took their first beating of the 1930-31 season, the University of California 145-lb Bears hitting the loop for 20 points in the first two quarters and for 14 more in the final two, making the score Santa Ana 19, California 34.

Nesbitt, California center, took high-scoring honors with 15 points to his credit. Martin, forward, was next in line with 8. Lorry Walbridge, Santa Ana guard, was the shining light of the contest, with 7 points placed by his name.

The California squad, on a tour through Southern California, was to have met Long Beach and San Diego Y. M. C. A. squads before leaving for Berkeley sometime next week.

So. California Collegians And Junior Collegians Will Stage Big Cinderpath Festival In Claremont On February 21

Opening a new avenue of track competition between Southern California junior colleges and the Southern California college conference, cinderpath officials have decided to hold a series of track relays, the first of which will come February 21 on the Alumni field, at Claremont, California. One week following these events, the A. A. U. relays will be held, it has been announced.

Three Classes

There will be three classes of competition at Claremont: freshman, junior college, and college. Southern conference colleges expecting to participate are Occidental, Whittier, San Diego, LaVerne, Pomona, Redlands, Cal Tech and Santa Barbara State.

Junior college competition will be open to Santa Ana, Compton, Pasadena, Glendale, Long Beach, Los Angeles, and Fullerton of the Western Division and Riverside, Chaffey, Citrus, Pomona, Santa Monica, and San Bernardino Union of the Eastern Division.

Medals Given

Medals will be awarded for the first three places in each event, and with all colleges expected to participate, competition should be keen.

Although Coach Bill Cook has issued no call for Santa Ana track artists, several Dons have been taking daily workouts since school began Monday. Field candidates are expected to report sometime during the middle of January, while sprinters will answer the call in February.

Led by Tom Donahue, who will take over the captaincy held by Joe Warner last season, Santa Ana has an array of brilliant stars who should "bring home the bacon", if high school and other showings made by athletes mean anything.

Expect Big Roster

Tom Cone, Art Jacques, Leland Dresser, Carl Schoenberg, Warren Schutz, Melvin Beatty, Ervin Watkins, Emmett Seacord, George Blewitt, Bob Durbin, Don Dresser, Oran Asa, Joe Rodrigues, Bert Wilkins, Clarence Hapes, and Ed Meador are all expected to crawl into track togs the first day. Cone, Watkins, and Durbin loom as three of the best half-milers in the conference this season. Durbin hails from Orange high school, while Cone is a Santa Ana athlete, having won three Poly high varsity letters as well as captaining the 1929 high school team. Jacques is a high-jumper who showed outstanding ability last season. The lanky Don established a school record in 1930 of five feet, 11 1-2 inches. Dresser, Schoenberg, and Schutz, are three to be depended upon in the sprints and distances.

Beatty Returns

Beatty holds the school record in the javelin throw. Capable of heaving the slender pole more than 175 feet, this returning letterman should prove of value to Cook's ranks.

Watkins Threat

Placing second last year in the 880-yard run of the California state track festival, Ervin Watkins, hailed as one of Tustin's best all-around athletes, should burn up the cinderpath this year. With Watkins, Cone and Durbin starring in the 880-yard run, it is going to be hard for opponents to prevent Santa Ana from gaining the majority of points in this event.

Seacord, Blewitt

Specializing in the high and low hurdles, Seacord, now out for basketball, is another Tustin ace. Seacord plays football, basketball, baseball and goes out for track. In other words, he is an all-around man, good in all four sports.

Blewitt, from Anaheim, is a good sprinter. He competes in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Don Dresser, cousin of Leland Dresser, will enter training for the high and low hurdles. Rodrigues, of Santa Ana, and Bert Wilkins, from Anaheim, are two other well-known sprinters who will strengthen Cook's team. Hapes, the man mountain from Garden Grove, will enter field events this year. He holds an enviable record as a shot and discus thrower.

L. B. Viking Cage Team Walks Away With First Game

Smashing the Woodbury college of Los Angeles by a 70 to 19 score Saturday night, Coach Mel Griffin's Long Beach jaysee Vikings are going through a list of practices this week in preparation for their opening conference tilt with Santa Ana junior college Saturday.

With the Woodbury defeat as a precedent, the Viking quintet promises to cut through their conference games in a disastrous manner. Opening the attack with a series of deadly heaves from the center of the court, John Yelovitch and Bill Voorhees were easily the outstanding players on Griffin's squad. Yelovitch, scoring 15 points, was high point man, while Voorhees took second honors with 12 digits.

The heavy work for the Woodbury clan was done by Bob Romo, who rang up seven points. The second and third teams played more than half of the second period and showed up like regulars.

LOCAL WOMEN OPEN HOCKEY SEASON MON.

Ten Frosh And Nine Sophs Hear Lecture; Practice Driving, Dribbling

By Ruth Gardner

Girls, representing a variety of talent, turned out in pleasing numbers for the first season's hockey practice Monday afternoon. This sport, the favorite of many women, has been anticipated by the co-eds for many a moon. More freshmen reported than sophomores.

The sophs, who were on the freshman team last year, are in suit again, ready for their last year of competition here. They are expecting keen competition from the frosh, many of whom have a hockey reputation for being hard hitters and fast runners. "Brick" Allen and Eugenia Gire are considered two of the deadly freshmen, while Elsiebell Hurd and Agness McKinstry are two of the many old sophomore stand-byes now in suit.

Lecture Given

Monday afternoon was spent in practicing drives, stops, dribbles and other hockey plays; a game ended the practice. Coach Evelyn Yount gave the girls a lecture, impressing them with the fact that training rules must be kept. 1931 should be a winning year for Santa Ana, it is thought.

The turnout roster includes the following:

Sophs—Elsiebell Hurd, Helen Hendricks, Katherine Harwood, Agnes McKinstry, Ruth Gardner, Katherine Kendall, Audrey Teel, Mickey Jimenez, and Rachel Smith.

Baseball Change Is Likely, Reports Say

Baseballs used in big league games this coming season may be less lively than they have been in the past 50 years. The manufacturers, it is said, have been instructed to experiment with the balls and to try to perfect one that will have less hop to it, without losing the original hardness of the sphere.

Long Beach Vikings Entertain Dons Of Santa Ana Junior College Saturday In First League Basketball Game Of Year

Conference basketball play will make its initial bow to Southern California junior college fans Saturday night, with local interest centering around the Santa Ana- Long Beach jaysee opener, scheduled for the Beach city gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Santa Ana has been winning games right and left and Long Beach has been winning 'em the same way—both teams are anxious to lock horns in what should be one of the best contests of the first round of play. Other Saturday games: Glendale at Fullerton; Compton at Los Angeles; Pasadena, bye.

January 24—Pasadena at Santa Ana, Fullerton at Los Angeles, Glendale at Long Beach, Compton bye.

January 31—Santa Ana bye, Glendale at Pasadena, Long Beach at Los Angeles, Compton at Fullerton.

Recent winners in a 70 - to - 19 performance with Woodbury college, the Beach city Vikings have already shown that they aim to go far in the conference this season.

John Yelovich, known to baseball fans as the conference's best twirler, has captured the center position on the Long Beach cage team. He was high-point man against Woodbury, the Viking athlete ringing up 15 points, three ahead of Bill Voorhees, star forward. Voorhees set the floor on fire in the opening stanzas of the Woodbury fracas, scoring his 12 points in the first two quarters. Other first-stringers who displayed streaks of brilliance were Osborn, forward, Soeberg, running guard, and Captain Sagerhorn.

Dons Brilliant

Victorious against the Littles of Anaheim, Pomona junior college, the Whittier college varsity, Hawley Sporting Goods of Santa Ana, Concordia club of Orange, and the Loyola college freshmen of Los Angeles, Coach Bill Foote's Dons will go into the Long Beach gym Saturday night by no means classified as the underdogs.

Captain Orville Schuchardt and Hal Dunham loom as the outstanding Santa Ana candidates for the forward positions, although these two Dons are being pressed considerably by Lorry Walbridge and Leason Pomeroy. Emmett Seacord, star center from Tustin, has cinched the starting tip-off post.

Don Johnson, Elwood Lindley, Solon Beall, Wayne Garlock, and "Truck" Lindsay, all first string guard candidates, will be on hand Saturday night. It is undecided as to whom will receive the initial nod. Foote, like all other Santa Ana coaches, withholds his starting lineup until just before game time. In fact, he doesn't know whom he will designate to take the floor until after practice this week. With a variety of talent on his roll, he may discover a dark-horse before Saturday.

The probable lineup:

Santa Ana		Long Beach
Schuchardt (c)	F	Osborn
Dunham	F	Voorhees
Seacord	C	Yelovich
Lindley	G	Soeberg
Garlock	G	(c) Sagerhorn
